PROGRAMS

Together, We Served 14,200 Meals!

Our incredible volunteers, dedicated donors, interns, service member, and the amazing staff who created community by feeding everyone, regardless of ability to pay, have made this year possible. Together, we have provided healthy food to hungry people in Denver and have paved the way to launch the SAME Food Truck, which will reach into food deserts, and Cook to Work, an innovative job training program in the SAME Kitchen!

PROGRAMS

SAME Café

The flagship program of So All May Eat has been around for nearly 13 years. Each year hundreds of volunteers, dozens of gardens and farms, and the incredible staff serve delicious meals to everyone, regardless of ability to pay.

SAME Food Truck (2019)

Inspired by the success of SAME Café, the SAME Food Truck will launch in 2019 to make the mission mobile. It is expected to nearly double the number of meals served by So All May Eat and will focus primarily on food deserts in Denver.

Cook to Work (2019)

The hundreds of guests who volunteer in exchange for a meal will be welcomed to join C2W as they volunteer, a job training program designed to fit into their volunteer time and resulting in employment in the restaurant industry.

SAME Garden (2019)

So All May Eat is partnering with MetroCaring to create a community garden plot that will grow food for the Café and Food Truck and provide hands-on gardening skills to volunteers

Get Involved and Make A Difference

So All May Eat (SAME) runs on donations of time, money, and produce. Use what you already have to give back, create community, and provide food to hungry people!

So All May Eat in the news!

SAME has been featured on NPR, CPR, The Denver Post, CBS4, 9News, 303Magazine, and The Denverite!
